

ALEXANDRIA, VA.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 13.

STATE ATTACHMENT.—The cultivation of an attachment to, and pride in, one's State, is every way laudable. We do not limit this remark to natives of any particular section, but extend it to all who, making their own choice, become citizens of a State and join their interests to those of the people in whose midst they intend to dwell. The love of country is natural to all men—and it is almost impossible to divest ourselves of that virtue. But here, organized as this government was, from and by sovereign States, (from the very beginning separate and distinct provinces) the feeling seems as if it should be intensified both in native and adopted citizens. An honorable State pride, where the antecedents justify that pride, exalts a whole people. Not a petty pride that affects a scorn of others, or vaunts or puffs itself up; but a pride which leads to the remembrance of the great and good who have gone before us, and stimulates us to imitate their example, to cherish their principles, and to endeavor to transmit to posterity the glorious heritage they bequeathed to their descendants. Besides, too, it lies at the foundation of those political doctrines which are involved in State Rights—doctrines which can alone save this country from becoming a consolidated empire, governed in reality by an Oligarchy in Congress, and an Executive Dictator, whatever other names they may be called by. Let a man be imbued with a love for his State, and he will be doubly interested in all that concerns her true interests. To come home then; what Virginian is there who looks back at the past history of his State, who can fail to have his heart warmed and his patriotism kindled, as he reads the story of her military and civil career? Who can blame him if he exults—without assuming superiority, or hesitating to allow the same privilege to natives of other States or countries—at being a son and citizen of the Old Commonwealth? And who will not say that he does right in cherishing the feeling he exhibits, and clinging to it as one of the duties and pleasures of his life?

THE VIRGINIA LEGISLATURE.—The Richmond Whig says that as the Conservatives will now have for two years, at least, the control of the Legislative department of the State Government, the hope is entertained, that they will keep clear of all Rings and Combinations which are doing so much to corrupt American politics, State and Federal. The Legislature will meet on the first Monday in December.—It cannot continue in session longer than ninety days, without the concurrence of three-fifths of the members elected to each House, in which case the session may be extended for a further period not exceeding thirty days.

The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun says: "A delegation of republican State and Federal officials has arrived from Texas to represent to the President the condition of affairs there, and to urge that the Ku-Klux law be enforced, meaning thereby the desire of the party in power to secure the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus in certain portions of that State, and as a consequence to secure the military power. This delegation represents that the Governor has consented to give certificates to two of the four democratic congressmen elect, and thus recognize two republican contestants." When it was first announced that four Democrats were elected to Congress by the people of Texas, we had our misgivings as to whether the Radical leaders would not interpose to prevent them from taking their seats!

The New York Evening Post. (Rep.) says that "Lieut. Frederick G. Grant is a fortunate man in that he is the son of the President. If he had taken out a leave of absence of six months to visit Europe, he would only receive pay at the rate of $45 a month. But it is said that he is ordered to accompany General Sherman, and so receives his regular salary of $135 a month, and mileage at the rate of ten cents per mile for every mile of travel."

The District of Columbia Supreme Court on Saturday decided in effect that women are citizens under the law of the land, but that they have no constitutional right to vote in the District of Columbia under the Constitution, unless Congress shall legislate so as to directly endow them with the franchise. It is understood that the two ladies who are plaintiffs in the case will take it up before the Supreme Court of the United States.

The Washington Chronicle says that Gen. Grant's suppositions "combination or conspiracy," which he makes the pretext for suspending the habeas corpus, "is in existence in Virginia, and for the present is dormant." This, and other givings out, are designed to aid and abet the Administration in any further oppressive measures it may adopt towards the people of Virginia.

No yellow fever deaths have occurred in Charleston in the past two days. Leading physicians advise their patients that they may come back, and large numbers have already returned to the city. The Council have ordered a day of prayer and thanksgiving on account of the abatement of the fever. There was a heavy white frost in Charleston yesterday morning.

During the last three weeks there has been a decline in the price of Rio coffee of about one and a-half cents in bond, and about two cents on Java duty paid. But, the New York Post thinks that unless Europe ships us unexpectedly large quantities during the rest of the year, "we shall virtually be without a bag of coffee on the 1st of January."

The Richmond State Journal says: "Nine-tenths of the workers employed by our (Radical) side, labored for pay, while the principal part of the Democratic workers were volunteers. This is rather a singular confession to be made by an organ of the party! Nine-tenths of the 'party' to be laboring 'for pay.' An honest confession, however, is good for the soul."

The Petersburg (Va.) Progress says that on the Thursday preceding the election, the Loyal League of that city broke up in a row over a proposition to compel each member of the league to take an oath on the bible to support all the party nominees, under penalty of expulsion from the organization. "The carpet-bagger insisted upon the oath, and the native wing opposed it."

Theodore Tilton declares that, "if there is anything brilliant and captivating in the administration of Gen. Grant, the vision of its splendor has not dawned upon his eyes." Suppose he tries spectacles? He is one of those who promised the public much "splendor!"

Washington accounts say that a strong effort is being made to induce the President to make many changes among the Federal office holders in Virginia, and to substitute ultra men for those who are considered not "strong enough" in the Radical cause.

We have received a pamphlet copy of the Address delivered by Mr. Napton, of Missouri, last June, before the Alumni of the University of Virginia; a very excellent production. Also, The National School Festival, and the Printers' Circular.

President Grant has issued a proclamation declaring Union County, South Carolina, with in the operations of the suspension of the habeas corpus in the cases of prisoners arrested by the United States Marshals.

Judge Bond, in the Street Car case in Baltimore, has instructed the jury, that if they found the plaintiff was put out of the car on account of his color, and for no other reason, then he is entitled to recover.

The Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, on Saturday dissolved the injunction restraining the issue of the four million dollars improvement loan authorized by the Legislative Assembly.

The New York Herald says that the endurance business has all the appearance of being a grand humbug and fraud, worked up by cunning speculators to make money.

Judge Bowie has been elected Judge of the Maryland Court of Appeals, from the Montgomery District, by a small majority over Mr. Bradley.

It is now reported that the full Ku Klux committee will consider the propriety of recommending general amnesty to Congress in their report!

Predictions are made at the North that this coming winter is to be a very cold one. This is said every fall in advance of every winter.

The Southern Claims commission was engaged on Saturday in considering the claim of R. L. Roberts of Fairfax Co.

It is said that Guizot is to be the French Minister to England, and Fleury to the United States.

The health of Queen Victoria has very much improved lately.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

Two colored men were slightly wounded and a colored policeman killed on Saturday near the Ocean House, in Portsmouth, by a crowd of drunken men from Norfolk. The policeman interfered to stop the disturbance, when he was shot through the head by some one in the crowd and died almost instantly. Several persons implicated in the shooting have been arrested, and will be brought before the Mayor for examination.

The Warrenton Index says:—"We were much gratified at noticing that our public-spirited countryman, Mr. J. D. Bethune, took two premiums for the best thorough bred Durhams on exhibition at the State fair held at Richmond last week. Mr. B. believes in improved stock and spares neither trouble nor expense to obtain them."

Dr. G. A. Hamill, of Martinsburg, on Friday last, was called to see a patient about three o'clock a. m., and in the darkness fell into an excavation, but a short distance from his residence, and broke his neck. The Dr. was an eminent physician and useful man in the community in which he lived.

The First National Bank of Richmond on Saturday paid a check altered from $36 to $3,600. The person who presented it and drew the money has not yet been arrested.

Twenty four millions of the State debt has been funded under the act of the last Legislature.

The sale of the Brandon estate on the James river did not take place. Only one bid was made—and that was not entertained.

A SHOCKING AFFAIR.—A correspondent of the Louisville (Ky.) Courier-Journal, writing from Round-About, gives the following account of a shocking affair:

On Sunday, before noon, an old lady named Sarah Tuttle, who resided in the eastern part of Rockcastle county, while going through a pasture on her way to church, in company with a daughter aged eleven years, was attacked by a mad bull, a horn of which pierced her left side, tearing her heart open. After this, the animal chased the girl, and just before she reached the fence, the bull struck her with its horns and threw her over the fence. Her injuries consist of a broken arm, leg, and dislocated shoulder.

Persons who live in Mrs. Tuttle's neighborhood knew that she intended going to church, and missing her from the congregation, they visited her house, and not finding any one at home, and the fires being out, a search was instituted. The bull was found first, and the bloody horns created suspicion. Further search was made, and the suffering girl was heard groaning at a distance. She told the sad news of her mother's fate. Still further search was made, and the dead body of Mrs. Tuttle was found weltering in its gore, a terrible sight to behold. The neighbors in the mountains around then formed a squad to kill the enraged brute, and a volley of seven guns were fired into it at a given signal, which only had the effect of maddening it even more than it had been before; then, with a few fearful leaps, the animal showed fight at his enemy, and in less than five minutes cleared the field and held the ground for some time, until a bullet from a rifle ended his career.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

"To show the very age and body of the Times."

A family was found murdered yesterday in a house near Henryville, Indiana. The family consisted of Cyrus W. Parks, his wife, Isabella, his son John, aged ten years, and his daughters, Eveline, aged seventeen, and Ellen, aged fifteen years. The heads were all terribly beaten and crushed with some blunt instrument. The bodies of Mrs. Parks and her son were scattered about the room, while their bodies were lying in their beds. The daughters were found sitting in the kitchen alive, but were delirious and fatally hurt.

At Chattanooga, Tenn., yesterday, a fire was discovered in Fisher & Brother's jewelry store, at the corner of Eighth and Market streets, destroyed a square and a half in the business part of the city. The loss is estimated at $75,000. The fire was of incendiary origin. The city was fired in two other places, but was extinguished. Fifteen supposed Chicago desperadoes arrived from Memphis that night. Suspicion pointed to them.

Rev. Marshall D. Sanders, a missionary for some twenty years to Ceylon, India, died at his station at Battacott, Ceylon, on the 20th of August, of apoplexy. Mr. Sanders, with his wife, had just reached their station from this country, on July 4th. Mr. Sanders was a native of Wrentham, Mass.

In regard to the warning by our Government that the rights of the Hornet as a neutral vessel must be respected, the Spaniards put in a plea that their Consul at Port-au-Prince was insulted by the crew of the vessel, and on that account hauled down his flag and started for Havana.

The latest horror is that of a man in a Kansas town who, having worked himself into a disagreeable condition of insanity, endeavored to kill himself and family with chloroform, and failing in that, murdered his children by driving nails into their heads.

Mr. W. W. Corcoran, whose health continues to improve, sails for the Cuba on the 22d inst. for France. In Paris he will meet his grandchildren, and thence, accompanied by them, he will proceed to Cannes, in the south of France, where he will pass the winter.

One of the Russian fleet arrived in New York bay on Saturday, but has seen nothing of the other ships since they were five days out from Madeira. The Grand Duke, however, may be expected at any moment.

The jury in the case of Joseph League, on trial at Towson, Md., for the murder of an unknown girl at Chase's Station in June last, having failed to agree, were on Saturday discharged by Judge Grason.

A substitute for gutta serena has just been utilized. It is a marine plant washed up on the shores in the vicinity of the cape of Good Hope, South Africa, and has come into considerable use.

The rumored burying of the hatchet between Senator Fenton and Collector Murphy, in New York, on Thursday evening, is incorrect.

The Apache Indians have plundered a stage coach and murdered two of the passengers, according to dispatches from San Francisco.

In New York, yesterday, Frederick Sturmfel committed suicide in front of Trinity Church by swallowing a quantity of muriatic acid.

A YOUNG WOMAN BURNED TO DEATH.—The Wytheville Dispatch gives the following account of a terrible death from burning, which took place in that county last week:

It is with exceeding sorrow that we record the horrible death of Edmonia A. Perkins, aged about fifteen years, daughter of Polly Perkins, living three miles east of this place. The particulars of her sad death, as related to us, are as follows: The family were moving about another house, on Friday last, and about 10 o'clock on that night, Edmonia and her sister were left at the house, in the care of some bedding, &c., that was tied up and lying on the floor, until the return of others of the family to remove it. The two sisters being tired, laid down by the fire and fell asleep and in this condition Edmonia's clothing caught fire, and the door of the house being fastened, her sister jumped out of the window, and broke open the door. While this was being done, her sister ran all over the house, in flames, trying to escape. After getting out, her clothing was burnt off, and the skin on her person came off wherever touched. Some persons who had been out hunting, hearing the screams of these girls, hurried to them, but too late to save the unfortunate girl; but put the fire out in the house. She only lived about four hours.

A CURIOUS INTERRUPTION to a good supper occurred a few days ago at Nashville. Mr. Bruner, of that city, was visited by a friend, Mr. Baltiswiter, about tea time. Invited by the former to join him in a discussion of the beverage "that cheers but not inebriates," the latter accepted the gracious hospitality and seated himself at his friend's board. Scarcely, however, had he comfortably arranged his legs under Mr. Bruner's mahogany before that gentleman, as if seized with a sudden paroxysm of anti-hospitality, rushed to the door, closed and locked it, and then, proceeding himself of a carving-knife, proceeded to slice Mr. Baltiswiter into small bits. Fortunately, as it happened, Mr. Baltiswiter was the stronger of the two. He disarmed his antagonist, and then, by an ingenious and rapid movement, managed to get himself partly out of the front door. In this process, however, Mr. Bruner drew a pistol and fired at his retreating friend with the result that the fugitive was wounded in the leg. The cause of these "high jinks" appears to have been that Mr. Baltiswiter had unduly interested himself in a divorce case which more specially concerned Mr. Bruner.

"CAPITOL HILL," FAIRFAX COUNTY.—By invitation of our young and excellent friend P. P. Gooding Esq., we visited for the first time on Tuesday last the above place, situated about two miles from Fairfax station on an eminence commanding a fine view of that portion of Fairfax county. Captain Charles A. Arundel, the proprietor of "Capitol Hill," is the acknowledged leader of that locality. It is there to be a horse race or a fox chase or a child christened. The Captain is consulted. The marriage of several handsome daughters lately who have left home, has deprived the "Hill" of one of its leading attractions, but there is enough left in the smiling face, the welcome shake of the Captain's hand, and the splendid dinners prepared under the personal supervision of Madam Arundel, the white cottage, with its surroundings of shade trees, white-washed fences, gardens and flowers, to attract the weary traveller, and make him feel a homelike welcome. The Captain is surrounded with all the comforts of life and is certainly a happy man.—Fairfax News.

FAIRFAX CIRCUIT COURT.—The circuit court of this county commenced its session on Wednesday last, Judge Keith presiding. There were twenty four decrees entered. James W. Farr vs. J. E. Reside by consent removed to Circuit Court of Alexandria County. Lewis Johnson vs. Joseph Thornton, same; Reginald Fairfax vs. Benjamin Thornton same; Chichester, and others vs. P. H. Troth same. The contested will case of Conally was being argued before the court on Friday morning. The attendance at the court was very slim, there being few present, except the lawyers and their clients, jurymen, witnesses &c.—Fairfax News.

VIRGINIA ELECTION RETURNS.

FAIRFAX COUNTY.—The following is the official vote of Fairfax county: For the Senate—H. W. Thomas, 1,214; Thomas E. Taylor, 1,211; Westel Willoughby, 965; Edward Daniels, 963. For the House of Delegates—James Sangster, 1,202; J. H. Gray, 972. For Sheriff—Broadwater, 1,214. FAUQUIER CO.—HOUSE OF DELEGATES. Conservatives. Independents. Centre Township 351 338 114 97. Branner, 416. Molair, 70.

RAPPAHANNOCK.—All the precincts except Woodville have been heard from, and Wm. G. Miller, the Conservative nominee had nearly 600 majority over his Radical competitor. Woodville will make Miller's majority more than 600. Well and right nobly done!

ESSEX CO.—The election Tuesday passed off quietly in this county—no crowds, no excitement, but a general appearance of apathy prevailed on the part of the Conservatives, brought about, doubtless, from a knowledge of the fact that the blacks, who have a majority of two to one, would be sure to elect their candidates. The figures show the Radical majority, to be 102 less than it was two years ago.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.—On Thursday evening Mr. Willie Ayre, youngest son of Wm. Ayre, esq., who lives about 6 miles from this place on the Little River Pike, had his left arm caught in the cog wheel of his pressing machine while in operation at Wm. B. Ois near Clifton crushing the bone and mangle the arm so as to necessitate amputation, which was done above the elbow joint. He was doing as well at a late hour last night as could be expected. Doctors McWhorter, Fairfax and Lambert, attended him.—Fairfax News.
